

MedPhys Slam: Eligibility

Eligibility

To participate in MedPhys Slam, individuals must:

- Be a current Student, Junior, or Resident member of AAPM or COMP at the time of the 2026 Joint AAPM COMP Annual Meeting & Exhibition
- Present their own original research
- Not be involved in planning or organizing the final MedPhys Slam competition

Previous finalists and winners:

Finalists and winners from prior years (AAPM MedPhys Slam or COMP S3) may compete again, provided they:

- Continue to meet all eligibility requirements, and
- Present new, original research as a new entry

How to Enter

AAPM Chapter Preliminary Competition

Participants should contact their local AAPM Chapter to confirm whether a preliminary MedPhys Slam competition will be held. Each chapter is responsible for hosting its own preliminary round, and participants are responsible for verifying local participation details.

Virtual Preliminary Competition (COMP, International, and Non-Chapter AAPM Members)

COMP members, international participants, and AAPM members whose local chapter is not hosting a preliminary competition may enter through the virtual preliminary competition by submitting a pre-recorded presentation using the appropriate form:

- COMP Submission Form
- International / Non-Chapter Submission Form

Questions

For questions regarding preliminary competitions or the final MedPhys Slam competition, please contact: MedPhys.Slam@gmail.com.